THE SANDERSON PAINT STORY

In 1900 Arthur Sanderson introduced a small collection of paints to complement his wallpaper and fabric collections. Now, more than a century later, we have 154 colours in a selection of finishes that can be used throughout your home. From traditional to contemporary interiors, this timeless palette has been designed for homes where style matters.

Our craft is important to us, so we tint all of our paints in-house, which are made to order in the same facility as we manufacture our wallpapers, here in the UK. Seamlessly blending enduring heritage with modern day family life, this easy to use palette effortlessly complements our signature wallpaper and fabric designs.

Winter COASTAL

There's nothing quite like a family day on the beach to rejuvenate our senses and make memories to treasure.

Sun, sand and sea air feed the soul.

A chance to breath in the sea air and soak up the ever-changing vista. The British coastline provided the inspiration behind our Embleton Bay collection and its namesake paint colour.

We asked our team behind the scenes to share their favourite coastal escapes.

CAMUSDARACH BEACH - MORAR, SCOTLAND

It has always been a family favourite and a bit of a hidden gem with silver sands and turquoise water. It's a very magical place. Charlotte, Head of Creative

WELLS NEXT THE SEA - NORFOLK

Although the sea can be hard to get to it's vast and has beautiful sand dunes to explore. The walk through the forest to reach the beach is always an extra treat. Andy, Photographer

CANFORD CLIFFS - POOLE, DORSET

We have friends close to the beach and the sand is perfect and wonderful for children. The sun always seems to shine for us as well which is always a bonus. Becci, Embleton Bay Designer

BANTHAM, DEVON

This is our beach for family Boxing Days, we play touch rugby on the beach before walking home to hot drinks and roaring fires. Fi, Stylist

PORTHWIDDEN BEACH, ST IVES - CORNWALL

I watched my kids grow up here, rock pooling and swimming. It's lovely sheltered cove is safe and great for families with bright beach huts and a great café! Adam, Set Builder & Decorator

STYLING TIP

decorate with a palette of hues
inspired by your Sanderson wallpaper

Choosing coordinating colours throughout your living spaces creates a sense of balance and unity. Here we've paired the Bamburgh Sky wallpaper design from our Embleton Bay collection and its namesake paint with Menai blue, an exquisite mid blue with grey undertones. Effortlessly blending the serenity of the British coastline with the harmony of nature and bringing it home.

Active Emulsion is ideal for a busy family home, hard-wearing and washable, its classic matt finish encapsulates easy living and impeccable taste.

Calm

MOMENTS

Relax and revive -mix our timeless neutrals to create your sanctuary. The combination of Grey Mist and the darker hue of Gull Grey on the ceiling creates a new level of sophistication, encapsulating the room in soothing tranquillity.

Woodland walk

Leafy tunnels, unexplored paths, a stroll through dappled sunlight surrounded by the soft chorus of nature; woodlands are a place to unwind and rekindle our love for the outdoors.

ONE ROOM, TWO WAYS

Woodlands are a great source of inspiration. Whether you choose to decorate with the abundant palette nature provides or the exquisite detail of the modern tree of life in our Woodland Chorus wallpaper, the end result is an interior which resonates with nature to be enjoyed every day.

Both our eggshell finishes are ideally suited to painting furniture. The botanical hue of woodland yellow on a favoured chair brings the sunshine in, whilst briarwood and silver fern are perfect base colours for a dining table.

Foraging

FOR TABLE DECORATIONS

Woodlands are wonderful places to forage food and decorations, but make sure you collect responsibly. If you're starting out, the Woodland Trust website provides useful foraging tips.

ELDER BARK

John Keats described Autumn as the ‘Season of mists and mellow fruitfulness.’

A season to celebrate the harvest and enjoy the turning leaves in their glorious ambers, reds and yellows. Time for cosy evenings at home as temperatures fall and the anticipation of winter festivities begins.

A little indulgence

SPICED PEAR & GINGER

Ingredients

2 litres apple juice

2 thumb-sized Ginger pieces, sliced

4 Pears

2 Cinnamon sticks, plus extra for decoration

4 Cardamom pods

3 tbsp Light brown sugar

Juice of 4 limes, zest of 2

500ml Dark Rum

How to mix

Pour the apple juice into a large pan, then add the ginger, pears, cinnamon, cardamom and sugar. Add the zest and juice of the limes, bring everything to the boil and simmer until all of the sugar has dissolved. Serve warm in glasses , with a shot of spiced rum and a cinnamon stick.

Glorious
GREENS

incorporate layers of green using different accessories.

We were thrilled when Greenery was chosen as Pantone's colour of the year in 2017 and we've seen this colour group grow in popularity ever since. Nature's neutral, greens come in such a broad spectrum of hues, ranging from fresh zesty botanics to rich deep teals.

Green has always symbolised new beginning and works well in many applications, you can decorate alongside other green shades or frame the colour with one of our neutrals. Green fulfils our craving to be better connected with the natural world.

Colour psychologists often describe green as an optimistic colour associated with growth, harmony, safety and the environment. This association transcends cultures, in Japan green is associated with eternal life and in the western world with growth and progress. So, it's true greens are good for you.

confident neutrals

Never out of fashion, neutral palettes can be relied on to create timeless, elegant and sophisticated interiors. They work as excellent backdrops or as a soothing balance to stronger colours.

We've curated four neutral palettes, from warm undertones to cool structured greys, each work on their own or matched with colour.

Timeless Whites

Ever enduring, whites denote purity, innocence and integrity. Their ability to reflect light creates a heightened perception of space, whilst creating a backdrop to accentuate other decorating details within a room.

Greys instill a sense of calm and composure, bringing balance to our interiors; whether you choose a cool architectural hue or warmer contemporary tone, greys are often described as the new neutral.

THE SANDERSON COLOUR PALETTE

Life is all about colour and there's nothing like paint to create an interior that is absolutely yours.

Our design studio have added 50 new colours to the carefully curated Sanderson palette of 154 hues, to complement our signature wallpaper and fabric designs. There's something for everyone from modern brights through to chalky mineral shades, inspired by nature and perfect for family living.

When it comes to choosing colour, it's all down to personal choice; but it's useful to remember that the paint finish, lighting conditions and furnishings in the room will all influence your final look. Choosing the right finish is simple once you've decided what surfaces you'll be painting, as all 154 colours are available in all three finishes.

FIFTY NEW COLOURS

There's something for everyone from modern brights through to chalky mineral shades, inspired by nature and perfect for family living.

We know it takes time to pick your perfect colour, so we've made sure you won't be disappointed when it comes to picking a finish ensuring all 154 colours are available in each of our three finishes.

ACTIVE EMULSION

Designed for living, Active Emulsion is our most versatile finish yet. This highly durable classic matt finish is ideal for busy family homes and can be used on walls and woodwork. Whether it's a living room, hallway, bustling kitchen diner, playroom or bathroom, this washable finish is made for family life.

WATER BASED EGGSHELL

Sanderson Eggshell is a hard-wearing, water-based paint suitable for interior walls, ceilings, woodwork, radiators and metalwork. It has a washable, low sheen finish, making it perfect for kitchens, bathrooms and conservatories. Also suitable for use on interior and exterior woodwork and metals which have been primed.

OIL BASED EGGSHELL

This traditional oil-based paint gives a mid to low sheen finish that is resistant to steam and condensation, making it ideal for kitchens, bathrooms and conservatories. It's also durable enough for interior and exterior woodwork and metalwork which have been primed; including doors, window frames, skirting boards and radiators.

We are proud to say that all of our Sanderson paints are made in the United Kingdom and are formulated to minimise VOCs (volatile organic compounds, which contribute to atmospheric pollution).

SAMPLES

The best way to visualise how your room will look is to try the colour on your own wall. Sample pots provide an ideal way to see how your colour sits with any fabrics or wallpapers you plan to use, as well as seeing how it subtly adapts to the changing light throughout the day. A useful tip is to paint board and move it around your room, you can even take it with you when selecting fabrics and other accessories.
